

Lawrence Technological University

SUCCESS

Begins with You at LTU

Lawrence Technological University helps students plan and execute a successful career strategy. Co-ops, internships, mentoring, and other opportunities with key industry partners abound.

92% Students employed or registered for grad school at commencement

Lawrence Tech alumni rated their job satisfaction "5 out of 5," according to a PayScale survey.

In addition to successful programs, Lawrence Technological University has three potent assets:

location, flexibility, & reputation.

LOCATION

At the center of the nation's #1 region for engineering, technology, and architecture, LTU has historical ties to the automobile industry, manufacturers, and technology companies and is located in a large metropolitan area experiencing a creative and economic resurgence. Potential employers are located within minutes of campus. Their proximity has other benefits for LTU students:

- ▶ Corporate advisors partner with the University to keep LTU's academic programs current and scout for fresh talent.
- ▶ Many faculty have current industry experience and bring their professional networks into the classroom.
- ▶ A strong network of working alumni keeps employers recruiting talent from LTU.
- ▶ Industry-sponsored projects provide students real-world experience and valuable professional contacts.

FLEXIBILITY

Finding a career is a journey, and LTU Career Services is prepared to help every step of the way. The University's experienced staff members recognize that one career strategy does not fit all. Their strong relationships with employers give them the flexibility to tailor mutually beneficial connections between students and employers. Working with big and small companies, LTU can structure internships and co-ops to accommodate the timeframes and workflow needs of both students and employers.

REPUTATION

Lawrence Tech's focus on theory and practice prepares students for the realities of the workplace, and employers know it. Students enter the workplace with problem-solving skills for real-world challenges. Blue Devils dare to innovate and with a career-forward education, LTU graduates have the reputation of "hitting the ground running."

Want to be where the innovators and inventors are?

LTU's young alumni have earned more patents than all other four-year colleges and universities in the Detroit metropolitan area, according to the London-based Economist.

Tiffany Brown, BSAr'04, MAr'07, MBA'15, was honored with the inaugural John G. Petty Community Champion Award for her community work, particularly her 400 Forward initiative, which aims to introduce African-American girls and women to architecture and urban planning. She also is the winner of the AIA Michigan 2019 Associate Member of the Year award and the recipient of a Detroit Knight Arts Challenge matching grant.

Rachel Sweet, BSMC'17, dreamed of working on a live television show and her LTU media communication education got her there. She is now a producer and multimedia journalist for WILX. Prior to her job at WILX, she worked for WDIV-Local 4 where she interned fall and spring terms while still a student at LTU. The executive producers of the show "Live In The D" were so impressed with Rachel when she was an intern, they created a position for her to become the first associate producer of the daytime lifestyle show.
